

Okinomi Yaki Dinner at the Sunflower with Kuniko Shibuya

On January 14, a group of ZaCSA members and guests travelled to Higashi Rinkan to an Okinomi Yaki Restaurant called さんふろわ or “Sunflower” owned by Chizuko and Shoichi Nishino. We were escorted by Kuniko Shibuya who led us to the restaurant and helped us to understand what we were eating. Besides the final course of Hiroshima-style okinomi yaki, we sampled many other Japanese dishes—all of them delicious. Most of us left feeling that we should have paid more for our wonderful experience.

Shiochi san flipping the okonomiyaki.

A happy group after a wonderful meal.

Jeannine, Shibuya san, and Robin with liver yaki

